pH and Iron

Iron and pH Meter

pH is normally measured using litmus paper or pH meters with electrodes. The former is quite inexpensive, but it provides only poor results. Litmus papers also pose a serious problem to those who find it difficult to distinguish certain colors. Conventional pH meters, on the other hand, provide accurate results but the electrodes require maintenance and their price tag is much higher.

There is a third choice. In fact with HI 93743, you can measure pH in a few short and quick steps. The measurements are also impervious to temperature variations, a common source of error with conventional pH meters.

HI 93743 can also measure iron, a prime cause of unpleasant taste in drinking water and damage to kitchen ware and laundry.

With HI 93743, you can now measure both of these parameters with unparalleled accuracy for a cost-per-test that is comparable with chemical test kits and litmus paper.

Specifications

HI 93743 (Iron LR and pH)

Range	Iron	0 to 400 $\mu\text{g/L}$
	pH	5.9 to 8.5 pH
Resolution	Iron	1 $\mu\text{g/L}$
	pH	0.1 pH
Accuracy (@20°C/68°F)	Iron	$\pm 10 \mu\text{g/L}$ $\pm 8\%$ of reading
	pH	± 0.1 pH
Light Source		LED (Light Emitting Diode) 555 nm
Light Life		Life of the instrument
Light Detector		Silicon Photocell
Battery Type / Life		1 x 9V / approx. 40 hours of continuous use; auto-off after 10 minutes of non-use
Environment		0 to 50°C (32 to 122°F); RH max 95% non-condensing
Dimensions		180 x 83 x 46 mm (7.1 x 3.3 x 1.8")
Weight		290 g (10 oz.)
Method	Iron	Adaptation of the TPTZ method
	pH	Phenol red method

Accessories
